

TIMELY TOPICS IN BROOKLYN

WHAT PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT ON THE LONG ISLAND SIDE OF THE EAST RIVER.

The new Commissioners have already given proof of their intention to introduce reforms and purify the service in many needed ways. City Works Commissioner White began early to weld the axe and has dismissed a large number of employees on the ground that their services were no longer needed. This would appear to mean that the vacancies created will not be filled, and is, so far, an indication that under the Democratic Commissioner the money of the city was being thrown away. He has also filled the important office of Superintendent of Streets, for the man he first selected refused to serve after full consideration. The new Commissioner, Sterling, is Nicholas J. Ficklen, who was a clerk in the Water Register's office when Mr. Low was Mayor. He is said to be a man of energy. Since taking the way of street-cleaning is done in Brooklyn during the winter months, some people will wonder why Mr. White filled the office before spring. Police Commissioner Welles has gone about the discharge of his duties in a businesslike way. One thing he made entirely clear on the first day on which he conducted the trials of delinquent policemen, that he will not tolerate drunkenness or drinking among the members of the force. One officer who confessed to having taken two drinks of beer was put under strict discipline in the police force for the next two years. Park Commissioner White has also given evidence of a number of superfluous employees on his payroll and has been weeding them out.

The exhibition which McKane made of himself on the witness-stand must have been far from satisfactory to his friends; that is, to the intelligent men who are standing by him. Of course in the eyes of his ignorant followers McKane can do no wrong and he is still a hero and a much injured man. They will think the same after he is convicted, as he seems very likely to be. In fact, nothing can save him except the failure of one or two jurors to agree with their fellows. There are rumors abroad that two of the jurors are "all right" as far as McKane is concerned. Probably this is merely idle talk, all events, there is no evidence of such a state of things, and it is certain that extreme care was taken in selecting the jury. McKane's denial, on contradiction, of the fact that he had been in the city of New York, is a very unfavorable impression on intelligent and fair-minded jurors. One man who has been in court during part of the trial tells me that his impression of the jury was not favorable, but on looking at it closer he became convinced that it was a good jury and would do its duty fearlessly and honestly.

The prospects of the enactment of the "Greater New-York" bill seem to be excellent, after the large majority by which it was passed in the Assembly. The proposed consolidation would make a New-York as broad as it is long. The extreme length of the city north and south now is about fifteen miles; the extension of its limits in accordance with the provisions of the pending bill would carry it to twenty miles to the eastward. At the same time it would carry its southern extremity to the lowest point of Staten Island, which is nearly twenty miles from the City Hall. On Long Island, Far Rockaway, Creedmoor, Bayville and Whitestone would be included. As has been said before, this bill merely provides for the extension of the city limits. It does not touch the question of consolidation, leaving that to be decided by the voters in a future election. Of course there is a huge difference between the union of New-York and Brooklyn and the making of a great city government of 35 square miles. Consolidation by wholesale has little to commend it, but it can be no rational objection to the consolidation vote.

Meantime the agitation for consolidation on a smaller scale will continue. Bills have been introduced providing for the annexation of the town of Flatbush to Brooklyn, in accordance with the wish of a good many of the residents of that pleasant suburb. It is not the first attempt by any means to bring about this result, but heretofore the interests of the local politicians in the town have been too strong to be overcome. With a Republican Legislature this difficulty will be materially reduced. In all probability New-York will follow in no long time. In fact, a bill for its annexation has been brought forward—and then there will be only the question of Flatbush left. If the annexation of Flatbush is successful, the city government will be thought necessary to maintain a full county government in addition to the city government. The benefits of the annexation of Flatbush are, and so whether Flatbush and Gravesend are anxious for annexation or not, they are likely to be annexed, and the city government will be larger consolidation scheme which is more or less talked of.

The Republican members of the Board of Supervisors very properly took the bull by the horns in the case of Frederick Lind, who is the representative of the Eighth Ward at their meeting on Monday. The refusal of Clerk Farrel to obey the order of the Supervisor-at-Large brought about a condition of things strikingly similar to that in the State Senate when Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan undertook to run things by himself and Senator Saxton was forced to call the roll. The Democratic Supervisors and their agents have been taking lessons from both Trenton and Albany, and the Republicans have been too smart for them. The law in respect to the filling of vacancies in the Board is of the Democratic side. It provides that such vacancies shall be filled by the Board of Aldermen. Of course the Board of Aldermen had no idea that the Republicans would gain control of the Common Council. The vacancy in the Eighth Ward was caused by the death of Supervisor Slickovers a few days before the last election. It might be thought that the Board of Aldermen might be prompt to fill the vacancy, but it was not. The Democratic Board of Aldermen elected Kehoe to the place, and just before the end of the year he resigned, and was re-elected. The Board of Aldermen has been held by Judge Cullen to be invalid. To the existing Board of Aldermen the new Board of Aldermen (Republican) chose Mr. Lind. The law has been carried out, there is no vacancy and consequently no occasion for the new Board of Aldermen. Mr. Lind, however, has been ordered to resign. The Democrats have attempted to make a great deal of the alleged fact that Attorney-General Hendon had advised the Governor that the calling of a special election was the lawful and proper thing to do. But Mr. Hendon's emphatic denial that he gave such advice to the Governor without anything to lean on in that respect.

Mayor Schieren has taken a course that will win universal approval in endeavoring to reduce the amount which the city pays for electric street lights. The Board of Aldermen has rejected all the bids put in by the electric companies. This is a step toward a reform of real importance. The furnishing of lights for the city of heretofore has been a source of immense profit to the companies, and it is a notorious fact that Brooklyn pays a good deal more for this service than many other cities. What the Mayor intends to secure is a reduction of 30 per cent in the cost of electric lights. There is no doubt that the companies can fill make a large profit at the proposed figure. Mr. Schieren has looked into the matter carefully, and has been helped by the fact that the companies who called on him in the course of the week by the knowledge of the cost of electric lighting. Higher to certain politicians connected with the McLaughlin Ring have had a large share in the increasing profits of the companies, and hence all efforts to reduce the cost of this service have been vain.

The wisdom of the Board of Education in deciding at this time to increase the salaries of the principals of intermediate schools is open to serious question. It is well known that the number of schools in the city is inadequate to meet the demands upon them, and the importance of putting forth every effort to increase their capacity is self-evident. It is also the fact that many of the teachers are poorly compensated, while the principals are overpaid. The Board of Education is constantly asking for increased appropriations, and it is certainly public confidence in it will not be increased by such action as that taken last week.

Dr. Talmage really seems to have meant it. He now declares his intention to preach his farewell sermon in the Tabernacle on the first Sunday in March, and shortly afterward he will set out on a journey round the world, going from San Francisco to Honolulu, and then to Australia, New Zealand and India. Of course he will preach and lecture a good deal, but his declared purpose is to study the religions of the Eastern World in their homes. As he expects to return in October, it would seem as if his opportunities in that direction would be limited. His future after his return has not been determined, apparently, but it is not likely that he will lack opportunities to preach.

AT THE BROOKLYN THEATRES.

The first presentation of "The Princess Nicotine" by Lillian Russell and her company in Brooklyn will be made to-morrow evening at the Columbia Theatre, beginning a week's engagement, after which the comic opera will be presented for another week at the Amphion. Miss Russell will be seen in the title part, and in the cast with her will be Digby Bell, Sigismond Perugini, Alfred C. Lee, Charles A. Bignow, James G. Peck, Lucy Daly, Marie Dressler, Georgia Dennis, Grace Belasco, May Durrell, Lillian Thurston, Marie Celeste and others. There will be 100 in the chorus and ballet. The scenery and costumes of the Casino production will be used in Brooklyn. The ballet will be directed by Signor Pignatelli. Thomas Q. Seabrooke and his comic opera company will present "The Isle of Champagne" at the Amphion Theatre for the week beginning to-morrow evening. Mr. Seabrooke has taken the "Isle" through the city, and success has greeted his presentation. The company has been strengthened ened, and the costumes and the scenery are entirely new. Elicia Croix, the prima donna, sourette, will be seen again as Diana, the belle of the Isle.

The last of the series of six grand operas at the Brooklyn Academy of Music will be given to-morrow evening by the Abbey company from the Metropolitan Opera House. The success that attended the first representation of "Carmen" has created a demand for its repetition. The decision to give it again, Mile. Calvé will sing the title part, and she will have the assistance of Mme. Arnoldson, Miles, Bauermeister and Miles, and Signori De Lucia, Angona, Gromowski, Carbone, Viviani and Rinaldi. Signor Benigni will conduct the music.

BROOKLYN ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Republican members of the Board of Supervisors will meet to-morrow at 11 a. m. James Lloyd, who was elected president pro tem, last week, has appointed a new Finance Committee for the coming year. The new committee is headed by Attorney-General Hendon, who has a consultation with George P. Elliott, counsel in the matter of the contested seat in the Eighth Ward, in regard to the special election ordered for March 6, yesterday.

Frederick Nibba, a clerk at the Hotel St. George, said yesterday that his cousin, Miss Lavina Nibba, of Baltimore, had recovered her diamonds, valued at $3,000, which she lost after leaving the French Ball in New-York on Monday. He said she had offered a reward of $500, but had to pay only $250 to the persons who returned the gems. They told the lawyer who negotiated the matter that they found the jewels in Thirtieth-st., near Madison-ave.

It is expected that the store of the Liebmans Brothers Company, which was closed a week ago, will be reopened in a short time, as the creditors are favorable to a compromise and the responsibilities of business. A meeting will be held early this week.

Application was made to Judge Cullen yesterday for leave to serve an amended complaint in the suit of Mrs. Marie Belle Langley for absolute divorce from William H. Langley, as material particulars have come to light since the original complaint was served. Judge Cullen said the new complaint could be submitted to the counsel for the defendant.

Mrs. Jane Cortelyou, female searcher at Police Headquarters, was dismissed yesterday. Her duties will now devolve on the police matrons. Her pay was $10 a year.

A bust of Benjamin D. Stillman, the venerable lawyer, is to be made by William Ordway Partridge for a committee of Brooklyn and New-York men who have subscribed $1,000 for the work.

A conference of ministers and laymen was held yesterday afternoon in the Christian Association Building to discuss the proper observance of the observance of the Sabbath. The speakers were the Rev. Jesse Lewis, A. C. Dixon, James Montgomery, Hiram Hutchins and J. P. Carson.

TO HAVE ITS REGULAR LINCOLN DINNER.

The Union League Club will give its fifth annual dinner in celebration of Lincoln's birthday to-morrow evening in its club-house at Bedford-square. The President of the club, Charles S. Whitney, will preside, and the dinner will be in charge of a committee composed of Messrs. H. Wilson, Howard M. Smith, A. B. Rogers, Jr., Marshall T. Davidson, Jackson Wallace and Jesse Johnson. The speakers who have accepted invitations to respond to toasts are Senator Charles F. Manderson, of Nebraska; Senator Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia; General Henry W. Slocum and the Rev. Dr. R. R. Merrell. The last-named speaker will read the "Abraham Lincoln." The dining hall will be fittingly decorated, and several hundred members of the club and guests will attend the dinner.
